

COLORADO CAREER DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION

CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS

PREAMBLE

In order to foster and promote the principles and practice of career development, the Colorado Career Development Association has adopted the following Constitution and Bylaws.

ARTICLE I NAME and AFFILIATION

Section A. The name of this professional association shall be the Colorado Career Development Association, herein and after referred to as CCDA.

Section B. Affiliation. The Colorado Career Development Association (CCDA) is a state affiliate of the National Career Development Association (NCDA), and a division of the Colorado Counseling Association (CCA). CCDA shall be subject to those provisions of CCA as its Bylaws apply to divisions. As a division of CCA, CCDA is a nonprofit corporation chartered by the State of Colorado. In all instances, CCDA shall identify itself as Colorado Counseling Association, doing business as (DBA), Colorado Career Development Association.

ARTICLE II MISSION and PURPOSE

The mission of the Colorado Career Development Association is to promote the career development of all people throughout the lifespan. To achieve this, CCDA provides services to the public and supports the advancement of the career development profession. CCDA strives to promote a sense of community; opportunities for professional development; and a diverse network of resources, expertise, and support for its members.

The stated purpose of CCDA is to provide opportunities for individuals concerned with the theory and practice of career development in education, government, business and industry to participate in activities designed to increase cooperation and understanding, including:

- a) Presentation of programs and speakers addressing relevant issues pertinent to career life development.
- b) Promotion of a professional career development network to include a Directory of Members, and a network Newsletter.

- c) Exchange of information and ideas, through review of current career-related literature, other media, and personal contact.
- d) Liaison with other professional organizations committed to enhancing life and work options in the community.
